

MARK SHISLER

Senior Vice President of Construction

With 45 years of experience in the industry, Mark brings a strong and diverse background in project development and construction management of income producing projects throughout the United States.

Joining Billingsley four years ago as a senior level manager and an owner's representative, he manages the process as prime liaison between Owner's and the full compliment of project team members including design professionals, real estate professionals, financial and legal advisors, contractors and regulatory agencies.

With a deep background in Institutional, Hospitality, Telecom Data Centers, Multi-Family Apartments, Resorts/Hotels, Retail and Senior Living Care, Mark is an integral team member developing master planned communities.

Mark's broad interests in the natural world and history keeps him traveling internationally to remote regions of the planet.